Public Comments

Kitty Conklin read the following statement, “For a period of my active career life, I was a Senior Risk Manager in the Risk Management group at Royal Bank of Canada Capital Markets. One area of my responsibilities was to create, rollout and monitor employee adherence to a set of internal, operational policies that applied to a group of employees acquired in a merger. With that background, I have reviewed the policies on tonight’s agenda and would like to comment.

“1. 2.105 the Ethics and Gift Ban - while this policy may confirm to ISBE guidelines, it is a much more liberal policy than exists in most of the business world along with the Village of Oak Park. For example, The definition of “compensated time” is quite loose and appears to tolerate numerous opportunities for unethical and possibly illegal behavior to be conducted. Monetary limits for things like gifts are higher than those allowed at VOP, which doesn’t allow gifts at all. Please update this policy before adoption.

“2. Financial Policies as a whole - Under the Every Student Succeeds Act, and by December 2019, all US public school districts must adhere to first-time federal financial transparency requirements. The financial policies presented this evening appear to pretty much be a rubber stamp extension of old policies.

“Earlier this year, I met with Bob Spatz and Rob Breymeier on this subject. D97 has begun to make modifications to their policy language to address the ESSA defined financial transparency requirements. I encourage all board members here to NOT simply extend the old D200 financial policies but, instead, position D200 on the policy path that will ensure conformance to federal laws.

“Switching gears, during tonight’s meeting, will you be able to comment on any updates to OPRF swim curriculum requirements?”

Marty Bernstein spoke to the consent agenda item F. Amendment to Financial Consultant Contract and had questions about item 2 which was to provide financial support that speaks to cost and funding of the project. He asked how this work coincided with the work of ICI and Perkins+Will who were hired to manage the project. He did not understand why a consultant was necessary at this time nor why someone else helps with funding was necessary for a project that did not exist. The amendment does not state any increased funds or the funds in the existing contract will be used to pay this cost. He wanted to see figures on all items like this.

Frank Libbe, the parent of a junior and recent graduate, voiced concerns about course offerings, specifically the co-taught classes from college prep. Last spring his son enrolled in a college prep co-taught Plane Geometry. A day before school started, the school contacted and suggested that his son step down to Project-based Geometry, which is not a college prep class. Ultimately they learned that the school had canceled all co-taught college prep classes. He felt this was a poor decision and asked the Board of Education to reverse it. His wife, Peggy Daley, had sent a more extensive email to the Board of Education. He spoke at this meeting to give additional visibility to this fact and to ask for a policy change.

Dr. Moore stated that the appropriate administrator and/or Board of Education member will respond to the questions.

FOIA Requests

Ms. Kalmerton reported that 11 FOIA requests had been received and 10 were resolved.

Policy 4:20

Dr. Moore moved to approve Policy 4:20, Fund Balance, for first reading; seconded by Ms. Dixon Spivy.

PRESS recommended bringing this policy forward for its 5-year review. It was the intent of the administration to review this policy again before the end of the year.

Because of the public comments, the Board of Education felt that a first reading could be delayed until the end of the year.

A roll call vote resulted in all nays. Motion failed.

Policy 2:105

Dr. Moore moved to approve Policy 2:105, Ethics and Gift Ban, for first reading; seconded by Mr. Iseli.

PRESS had recommended bringing this policy forward for its 5-year review. PRESS policies are craft and vetted by many lawyers and adopted by the majority of school districts around the state and they are in line with the State Board of Education. Discussion ensued, per the public comments, about investigating lowering the amount for food which is $75 per person. Mr. Baron suggested comparing this limit with policies of other taxing bodies. Does the District track gifts that employees receive? Is there a summary of the value of the gifts? What is the administration's justification of the $75 limit? These questions can be explored before the Board of Education votes to recommend them for second reading and adoption at its September 27 meeting.

A roll call vote resulted in all ayes. Motion carried.

Financial Consultant Contract

Dr. Moore moved to approve the Financial Consultant Contract; seconded by Mr. Iseli. A roll call vote resulted in all ayes. Motion carried.

Student Participation Report

Each year the Student Activity and Athletic Department prepares a comprehensive report on student participation in the extracurricular programs at Oak Park and River Forest High School. The data was collected via Skyward and Data Warehouse by Decision Ed. The data contains participation information for all clubs, activities, and athletics. This data was then analyzed by the Director of Student Activities and the Athletic Director. For the purpose of explanation, the term Extracurricular Activity will encompass both Athletics and Clubs. If the data is referring to athletics only the term "sport" will be used, and if the data is referring to only a club in the student activities department, the term "club" will be used. The data findings are displayed and discussed below

The findings showed that students participating in extracurricular activities increased by 0.3% from 2016-2017, continuing a five-year trend of increased participation. Students enrolled in at least one extra-curricular activity, on average, continue to significantly outperform their peers in GPA and attendance rates. Based upon participation rates by race, OPRFHS does not have a significant participation gap between the overall student population and those students that participate in the extracurricular program. Our diverse student population is well represented in Extracurricular Activities. The average national participation rate is 60% to 65%. OPRFHS is proud of its participation rate. One member observed that all subgroups exceeded the national average and the percentage of African-Americans went up to 79%, which is hard to sustain. It had gone down slightly, but the reason may have been that it had been at a historic high the previous year.

Discussion ensued. Why have the participation rates for African-American and Hispanic students decreased? A survey was administered two years ago to those students who were not participating in extracurriculars, and the responses included they had jobs, they watched their siblings, etc. It was requested that new information was needed. Where are the trends? Are freshmen still signing up for activities? Were clubs eliminated and thus a drop off occurred? While Board members commended the District for having the high participation rates, one member noted that it also needed to focus on students who are not and the structural problems that are causing this. More education is needed around the fact that students do better, have higher GPA when they are involved in extracurricular activities.

Are there barriers that come from the middle schools? What is the articulation that should happen with middle schools about involvement? The District has pushed participation along with freshman kickoff, publicized the what clubs, activities, and sports, and shared that information with students, but not the parents.

Discussion ensued about the turnover of sponsors this spring due to varying circumstances. Most of the positions have been filed, and many faculty and staff members were hired, including approximately 3 or 4 new teachers to the coaching staff. Having all of the coaching positions filled by in-house staff is difficult; presently 67 to 70% are in-house. Ms. Johnson was happy with the hiring process, and there has been good communication between the division heads about additional contributions after school. Due to the late hires, many did not have the opportunity to hear about them. She was very excited to have talented teachers and coaches.

A Board of Education member asked to race and gender statistics as the Board of Education talks about the effectiveness of the reports and the information being tied to Strategic Plan goals.

Certification of Summer
Graduates

Dr. Moore moved to certify the Summer 2018 Graduates, as presented; seconded by Mr. Baron. A roll call vote resulted in all ayes. Motion carried.
